INDEX TO VOLUME CXXXVII.

Abbott, C. S. Some obstinate forms of eczema, 373.
Abbott, S. W. Consumption as an indoor disease, 524.
Abdomen. Pistol-shot wounds of the abdomen, Beach, H. H. A., 368.
Abdominal Surgery. Three cases of abdominal stab-wound, laparotomy in each case, with recovery, Meigs, J. V., 597.
Abuse of Medical Charity. Medical responsibility of medical charity, Rhoades, J. H., 430; supplementary report to the Society of the County of New York by its committee on the abuses of medical charity, 558; abuses of medical charity, 665.
Aconite. A case of aconite poisoning, Greenleaf, R. W., 57.
Actinomycosis hominis, Ruhräh, J., 639.
Addison's Disease and pneumothorax, Shattuck, F. C., 624.
Alcohol. Narcotism and alcoholism, 452; sudden death due to alcoholism, Hurd, E. P., 619.
Allen, C. W. A scale of measurements for the accurate and uniform description of cutaneous lesions, 446.
Allen, G. W. Report of a case of hernia testis, 64.
Anatomy. A sexual study of the size of the articular surfaces of the long bones in aboriginal American skeletons, Dorsey, G. A., 80; a rare form of occipito-atlantal articulation, Dorsey, G. A., 204.
Anemia, Taylor, A. E., 42.
Anesthesia. Chloroform in obstetrics, Davis, E. P., 193, 205; the superiority of chloroform as an anesthetic in midwifery practice, Worcester, A., 196, 205; the use of ether in obstetric practice, Green, C. M., 198, 205; ether and chloroform, 215; statistics of anesthesia, 219; the prevention of pneumonia following anesthesia, Whitney, W. F., 311, 316; chloroform and ether, Keefe, D. E., 641; the relative safety of chloroform and ether, 660.
Annus Medicus, 679.
Antitoxin as a prophylactic, Twombly, E. L., 649.
Aphorisms, 506.
Appendicitis. Recent foreign literature on appendicitis, 91.
Arequipa. A visit to the highest meteorological station in the world, Ward, R. DeC., 637.
Army. An army medical board, 45.
Art. The human foot in art, Bradford, E. H., 305.
Arthritis deformans, Stewart, J., 269.
Austin, H. W. The bill for a department of public health, 559.
Autopsies, Carpenter, I. L., 374.
Ayres, S. Uncommon nasal paresthetic stenosis, 378.
Babcock, R. H. A brief consideration of some points in the management of consumption, 88.
Bacillus. A possible aid to the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the urine, Bryson, J. P., 64; yellow fever and the bacillus icteroides, Sanarelli, G., 93; the bacillus icteroides, 116.
Bacteriology run mad, 355.
Baker, S. Steps toward insanity, 378.
Bancroft, C. T. Two cases of homicidal amnesic, transitory frenzy, 385.
Bangs, L. B. Results after nephrectomy for renal tuberculosis, 39.
Barber shop. The barber shop as a menace to the public health, Suiter, A. W., 523.
Barney, C. N. Cerebral syphilis, with report of a case of chronic meningo-encephalitis secondary to syphilis, 671, 677.
Bartlett, E. J. An examination of forty-three published cases of opium or morphine poisoning, 674.
Baxter, W. B. The use of tincture of iodine in chronic trachoma and pannus, 417.
Beach, H. H. A. Cancer of kidney, nephrectomy, 13; pistol-shot wounds of the abdomen, 368; chronic hydrocephalus—puncture, 676.
Bed. Death from collapse of a folding-bed, 247.
Bellevue Hospital Medical College, laying of the corner-stone, 529.
Beri-Beri at the Richmond Asylum, Dublin, 164.
Berlin. International Congress of Leprology, 478; Berlin letter, 665.
Bibliography. Abbott, A. C., the principles of bacteriology, 115; Allbutt, T. C., a system of medicine, 500; American Journal of Physiology, 451; Andrews, G. F., the living substances as such and as an organism, 525; Bishop, S. S., diseases of the ear, nose and throat and their accessory cavities, 579; Butler-Smythe, A. C., a first series of fifty-four consecutive ovariotomies, with fifty-three recoveries, 399; Canfield, W. B., practical notes on urinary analysis, 186; Dakin, W. R., a handbook of midwifery, 660; Delaugdale, E., congenital dislocation of the femur, 378; Eccles, W. M., elementary anatomy and surgery for nurses, 322; Fick, A. E., diseases of the eye and ophthalmoscopy, 632; Fuertes, J. H., water and public health, 500; Garrigues, H. J., a text book of the diseases of women, 604; Hare, H. A., practical diagnosis, 679; Herold, J., a manual of legal medicine, 632; Hill, L., the physiology and pathology of the cerebral circulation, 632; Hinsdale, G., syringomyelia, 398; Holt, L. E., the diseases of infancy and childhood, 449; Hubbard, S. C., biographical sketch of the life and writings of the late Prof. Henry Bronson, M. D., 138; Jellett, H., a short practice of midwifery, 214; Jewett, C., the essentials of obstetrics, 554; Mallory, F. B., pathological technique, 525; Mason, W. P., water-supply considered principally from a sanitary standpoint, 500; Massachusetts, the twenty-eighth annual report of the Massachusetts State Board of Health, 661, Martin de Argenta, D. C., las inflamaciones pelvininas de la mujer, y su tratamiento mas inteligente segun las clinicas, 399; Medical News visiting list for 1898, 604; Mitchell, S. W., clinical lessons on nervous diseases, 399; Morris, R. T., lectures on appendicitis and notes on other subjects, 214; Mynter, H., appendicitis and its surgical treatment, 659; Navy, annual report of the surgeon-general of the United States Navy, 662; Norris, W. F., and Oliver, W. A., system of diseases of the eye, 65; Packard, H., five years' work in surgery, 322; Park, R., a treatise on surgery, 321; physicians' visiting list, 632; Pozzi, S., a treatise on gynecology, medical and surgical, 632; Preston, G. J., hysteria and certain allied conditions, 499; Pye, W., elementary bandaging and surgical dressing, 186; Remsen, I., the principles of theoretical chemistry, with special reference to the constitution of chemical compounds, 322; Richardson, B. W., vita medica, 632; Rideal, S., water and its purification, 500; Schäfer, E. A., a course in practical histology, 400; Senn, N., tuberculosis of the genito-urinary organs, 631; Simon, C. E., Simon's clinical diagnosis, 660; Smith, J. G., abdominal surgery, 115; Snell, E. H., compressed air illness; or, so-called caisson disease, 500; Solly, S. E., a handbook of medical climatology, 450; Stewart, G. N., a manual of physiology with practical exercises, 322; Stockham, A. B., Karezza, ethics of marriage, 579; Taylor, R. W., sexual disorders of the male and female, 659; Thompson, J. A., a contribution to the history of leprosy in Australia, 473; Thorington, J., retinoscopy (or shadow test) in the determination of refraction at one metre distance with the plane mirror, 138; Vaughan, V. C., and Novy, F. G., ptomaïnes, leucomaïnes, toxins and antitoxins; or the chemical factors in the causation of disease, 18; Veasey, C. A., ophthalmic operations as practised on animals' eyes, 399; Wharton, H. R., minor surgery and bandaging, 186; Wise, P. M., a text book for training schools for nurses, 659.
Bicycle. The bicycle again, Shadwell, 117.
Billroth and Pir goff, Rovinsky, A., 666.
Biography. Allen, H., 532, 610; Avery, C. H., 504; Bates, N. L., 432; Bloodgood, W. E., 430; Boer, O., 168; Bolles, J. C., 304; Bradbury, O. N., 297; Bratton, W. D., 432; Bucknell, J., 168; Chapman, F. B., 640; Clark, C. E., 640; Culver, J. E., 500; Daly, J. P., 430; Dana, W. L., 297; Davis, C. H., 328; Duchenne, 382; Evans, T. W., 532; Foster, T. A., 297; Fresenius, C. R., 92; Frye, P. G., 403; Fuller, A. J., 297; Garceau, T., 663, 668; Gilchrist, W. N., 609; Hayes, T. J., 248; Hays, D., 326; Heidenhain, R. P. H., 456; Hicks, J. B., 328; Higgins, A., 403; Hitchcock, F. E., 297; Hoitt, G. C., 640; Holmgren, A. F., 384; Hutton, W. H. H., 45; Jones, J., 477; Krog, A. E. W., 189; Lindsley, J. B., 640; Love, J. J. H., 142; Lusk, W. T., 67; Luys, J. B., 304; McCormick, R., 167; Meyer, V., 220; Moody, D., 297; Moore, I. L., 384; Morison, R. B., 408; Oertel, M. J., 168; Olmstead, J., 609; Pirogoff, N. I. 604; Read, I. B., 69; Rendell, J., 327; Ritter von Leich, J., 168; Robitaille, O., 263; Sanger, E. F., 167; Simpson, J., 456; Skilton, J. A., 581; Smith, R., 452; Stearns, I. H., 304; Tarnier, 668; Thayer, W. H., 692; Thompson, E., 640; Thurman, W. M., 117; Van Hœvenberg, J. O., 637; Webster, J. O., 297; Welch, E. A., 612; West, G. W., 168; Wey, W. C., 44.
Blake, C. J. Intra-tympanic disease as a factor in the causation of aural vertigo, 5, 14; the fatigue of deafness, 174.
Blake, J. B. Palliative and operative treatment of fistula in ano, 230.
Blodgett, A. N. Entire destruction of the soft palate and velum by syphilis, 133, 135.
Boland, E. S. A caution against the use of antefebrin on extensively blistered surfaces, 95.
Bombay. High mortality at Bombay, 247.
Bonney, S. G. Observations upon pulmonary tuberculosis in Colorado, 89, 282; what inferences may be drawn from cases of pulmonary tuberculosis reported to have originated in Colorado? 362.
Borland, E. B. Curability of pulmonary tuberculosis, 40.
Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 395.

Brackett, E. G. Treatment of torticollis, 137.
Bradford, E. H. A study in human gait, 162; round shoulders, 257; the human foot in art, 305; an examination of human gait, 329.
Brannan, J. W. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 266.
Brewer, G. E. Some observations upon the surgical anatomy of the kidney, 38.
British medicine in Greater Britain, 221.
Brower, D. R. Climate in relation to the nervous system, 114.
Brown, S. Diseases of the nervous system affected by climate, 90.
Brunner. Starvation of the reconcentrados in Cuba, 478.
Bryan, J. H. Intra-nasal tumor, 185; report of a case of suppurative inflammation of frontal, ethmoidal and maxillary sinuses, 186.
Bryson, J. P. Clinical observations on loose and displaced kidney, 38; a possible aid to the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the urine, 64.
Burr, C. R. The tuberculous diathesis, 542, 565.
Burrage, W. L. A case of ovariotomy during pregnancy, 104, 108; a case of emansio mensium, or absolute amenorrhea in a married woman twenty-six years old, 393, 398; division of the utero-sacral ligaments and suspensio uteri for immobile retroposition with anteflexion, 652.
Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W. Report on surgery, 154, 178; recent progress in surgery, 312.
Cabot, A. T. Chondro-sarcoma of the femur, 161; science in medicine, 481; points in operative technique, 492.
Cabot, R. C. Health boards and the Widal test for typhoid fever, 276; alcoholic stimulation in continued fevers, 573; the diagnosis of trichinosis, 676, 678.
Cæsarean Section. A case of Cæsarean section, Reynolds, E., 35.
Calculi. Cholelithiasis, Hunter, W., 350; the symptoms and diagnosis of cholelithiasis, Graham, 351.
Calculus. Gall-stones formed on the sutures of an operation for cholecystotomy twenty years ago, Homans, J., 13; a case of cystin calculus in the male bladder, Thorndike, P., 40; recurrent stone in the bladder of a child, Judkins, W., 64; a case of renal stone, Reynolds, E., 398.
Call, E. L. Acute tuberculosis in puerperal women, 342, 350.
Campbell, D. S. The treatment of croupous pneumonia, 41.
Capps, J. A. Digestion leucocytosis as an aid in diagnosis of cancer of the stomach, 468.
"Carding" the sciatic nerve, Delagénière, 219.
Carpenter, I. L. Autopsies, 374.
Carvelle, H. DeW., glaucoma, 372.
Casselberry. Discussion on atrophic rhinitis, 211.
Cellular Nucleus. Has the cellular nucleus independent existence? 379.
Centrevall, I. A. A case of moon-blindness, 383.
Chamberlain, C. N. Winter Park, Florida, as a winter resort, 667.
Channing, W. Characteristics of insanity, 585, 613.
Cheever, D. W. The new surgery, 1; address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 268.
Cheney, F. E. Penetrating wounds of the chest, 49.
Chest. Penetrating wounds of the chest, Cheney, F. E., 49.
Children. Report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 105, 650; a case of gastric ulcer in a child four months old, Hibbard, C. M., 177; gastric ulcer in the new-born, Lincoln, J. R., 178.
Chismore, G. A new method of removing polypoid growths from the bladder, 64.
Chloroform in obstetrics, Davis, E. P., 193, 205; the superiority of chloroform as an anesthetic in midwifery practice, Worcester, A., 196, 205; chloroform and ether, Keefe, D. E., 641; the relative safety of chloroform and ether, 660.
Cholecystitis. A case of cholecystitis due to the typhoid bacillus, Richardson, M. W., 570.
Cholecystotomy. Two cases of cholecystotomy, Kidder, E. H., 369.
Cholelithiasis, Hunter, W., 350; the symptoms and diagnosis of cholelithiasis, Graham, 351.
Circulatory System. Pericarditis, some points in its diagnosis and treatment, Shattuck, F. C., 28; anæmia, Taylor, A. E., 42; a case of ligature of the innominate artery for aneurism, Gay, G. W., 73, 87; penetrating wound of the heart, recovery, Parrozzani, 190; on the proper use of terms to denote myocardial changes, Tyson, J., 270; an autopsy in a case of innominate aneurism cured by the introduction of gold wire and electrolysis, 275; a case of ruptured aorta, Mallory, 315; phlebotomy, Leet, J. A., 373; a sign of cardiac failure, Jackson, H., 467, 473; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 471; three cases of congenital heart disease, Townsend, C. W., 493; two cases of aortic regurgitation and tabes dorsalis, Vickery, H. F., 498; the "skin heart" as a factor in the human circulation, with special reference to the Brand and Schott treatment, Hutchinson, W., 511.
Clark, L. P. Report of a case of asthmatic paroxysms taking the place of epileptic fits, 622.
Climate. Some personal observations of the effects of changes of climate upon men and animals, Newton, R. C., 112; renal diseases as affected by climate, Danforth, I. N., 114; climate in relation to the nervous system, Brower, D. R., 114.
Cobb, F. C. A new electrical nasal saw, 520; acute inflammation of the antrum of Highmore, 594, 603.
"Cock-matrons," 191.
Coe, F. H. Medical laws of the State of Washington, 559.
Collins, J. The pathology and morbid anatomy of Huntington's chorea, with remarks on the development and treatment of the disease, 657.
Congress. The German Congress für innere medicin, 70; Twelfth International Medical Congress, Jacobi, A., 94.
Constipation. Treatment of constipation, Pfaff, F., 256.
Coolidge, A., Jr. Hysterical dysphagia, 185; recent progress in laryngology, 598.
Coues, W. P. A case of diphtheria of the vulva, 470.
Cowles E. The relation of mental diseases to general medicine, 277, 297.
Crichton-Browne, J. Brain desuetude, 664.
Cuba. Starvation of the reconcentrados in Cuba, Brunner, 478.
Cumston, C. G. The accidents produced in sero-therapeutics, 23; specimens, 348; a case for diagnosis, 469.
Cushing, E. W. Gonorrhea in women, 240; pathological specimens, 245.
Cutaneous System. Some obstinate forms of eczema, Abbott, C. S., 373; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 395; address before the American Dermatological Association, White, J. C., 422; a contribution to the study of bleeding stigmata, Hyde, J. N., 423; hysterical dermato-neuroses, Van Harlingen, A., 423; linear nevus, Morrow, P. A., 423; the various forms of pityriasis and their relations to erythema, eczema and psoriasis, Fox, G. H., 423; a discussion upon the x-rays, Gilchrist, 423; strong solutions of the ichthyol group in acute and chronic inflammatory conditions of the skin, Klotz, G. H., 424; the nature of the xanthomata, Pollitzer, S., 424; contributions to the etiology of congenital ichthyosis, Winfield, G. M., 425; hereditary and continuous shedding of the finger-nails, Montgomery, D. N., 425; symmetrical atrophy of the skin, Fordyce, J. A., 425; some cases of feigned eruption, Shepherd, F. J., 426; eleven cases of porokeratosis (Mibelli) or hyperkeratosis excentrica (Respighi) in one family, Gilchrist, T. C., 445; a scale of measurements for the accurate and uniform description of cutaneous lesions, Allen, C. W., 446; a peculiar affection of the hair follicle, Grindon, J., 446; impetigo herpetiformis, Hartzell, M. B., 446; impetigo herpetiformis or dermatitis herpetiformis, Fordyce, J. A., 446; pseudo-lupus of the face due to the presence and growth of blastomyces or budding organisms resembling yeast plants, Gilchrist, T. C., 446; lymphangioma of the labia majora, White, J. C., 447; International Congress of Leprology, letter from Berlin, 478; a new affection, White, J. C., 491; two unusual cases of skin disease, White, J. C., 623; multiple lipoma of the skin, cystic adenoma of sebaceous glands, Porter, C. B., 625.
Cutler, E. G. General remarks upon gastric dyspepsia, 249; record of two cases of beginning pulmonary tuberculosis treated with subcutaneous injections of Koch's tuberculin T. R., 571, 577.
Cutler, E. G., and Elliot, J. W. Chronic ulcer of the stomach, 54, 60.
Cystitis. Some cases of cystitis in women, 97, 109, 126.
Da Costa, J. M. The scholar in medicine, 229.
Daly, W. F. Purulent ophthalmia from the bacteriological standpoint, 131.
Dana, C. L. A consideration of the paresthetic neuroses, psychroesthesia and kaumesthesia, 654.
Dane, J. A new modification of the hip-splint, 59; some effects upon the leg of pronation of the foot, 138.
Danforth, I. N. Renal diseases as affected by climate, 114.
Dartmouth College. The centennial introductory address, Dartmouth Medical School, July 14, 1896, Leland, G. A., 25.
Darwin, G. H. Lowell Institute lectures by Professors Darwin and Foster, 426.
Davis, E. P. Chloroform in obstetrics, 193, 205.
Deafness. The fatigue of deafness, Blake, C. J., 174.
Delageniere. "Carding" the sciatic nerve, 219.
Delavan, D. B. Simulated sarcoma of the tonsil, 212; a new method of permanent relief for certain enlargements of the turbinate bodies, 212.
Denver. Notes upon Denver weather, Edson, C. E., 515.
Derby, H. On the occurrence of retinal hemorrhage after middle age and its bearing on the duration of life, 83.
Diabetes. On the dietetic treatment of diabetics, Saundby, R., 270; the treatment of diabetes by uranium nitrate, Duncan, E., 271.
Diagnosis. A case for diagnosis, 469.
Digestive System. Chronic ulcer of the stomach, Cutler, E. G., and Elliot, J. W., 54; urethro-rectal fistula, Tuttle, J. P., 61; recent foreign literature on appendicitis, 91; a report of three cases of cancer of the stomach in which hydrochloric acid was found, Vickery, H. F., 132, 136; the radical cure of inguinal hernia by injections of chloride of zinc, 163; ruptures of the viscera and their connection with surgical shock, Dwight, E. W., 171, 182, 202; a case of gastric ulcer in a child four months old, Hibbard, C. M., 177; gastric ulcer in the new-born, Lincoln, J. R., 178; hysterical dysphagia, Coolidge, A., Jr., 185; palliative and operative treatment of fistula in ano, Blake, J. B., 230; general remarks upon gastric dyspepsia, Cutler, E. G., 249; treatment of constipation, Pfaff, F., 256; on the dietetic treatment of diabetics, Saundby, R., 270; the treatment of diabetes by uranium nitrate, Duncan, E., 271; enteroptosis as a clinical factor in the diseases of women, Stone, A. K., 332, 348; movable kidney and enteroptosis, Lund, F. B., 335, 346; enteroptosis, Dole, M. P., 345; mucous colitis, Palmer, H., 372; foreign bodies in the alimentary canal in children, Woodman, M. S., 372; the surgery of the stomach, 400; perforation of a gastric ulcer into the pericardium, 401; my experience with hyperacidity, Liebmann, G., 465; digestion leucocytosis as an aid in diagnosis of cancer of the stomach, Capps, J. A., 468; intestinal obstruction from band, Porter, C. B., 494; a new method for the radical cure of inguinal hernia, 526; the chemical examination of the gastric contents, Hewes, H. F., 535, 565;
Diphtheria. Two remarkable recoveries from malignant diphtheria, Judd, L. D., 113; a case of diphtheria of the vulva, Coues, W. P., 470; antitoxin as a prophylactic, Twombly, E. L., 649.
Disinfectants, Robinson, F. C., 523.
Dispensary. A new dispensary abuse, 45; the results of a year's endeavor to lessen the dispensary abuse at the Rhode Island Hospital, Providence, 69; an effort to correct medical charity abuses, 118; Boston Dispensary, 403.
Dole, M. P. Enteroptosis, 345.
Dolichocephaly and tuberculosis, 20.
Dorsey, G. A. A sexual study of the size of the articular surfaces of the long bones in aboriginal American skeletons, 80; a rare form of occipito-atlantal articulation, 294.
Dulles, C. W. Consumption not contagious, 236.
Duncan, E. The treatment of diabetes by uranium nitrate, 271.
Dupuytren. The etiology of Dupuytren's contraction of the palmar fascia, 581.
Dwight, E. W. Ruptures of the viscera and their connection with surgical shock, 171, 182, 202.
Dyspepsia. General remarks upon gastric dyspepsia, Cutler, E. G., 249; treatment of constipation, Pfaff, F., 256.
Ear. Intra-tympanic disease as a factor in the causation of aural vertigo, Blake, C. J., 5, 14; some of the general principles which should govern operations for otitic brain disease, 145; the fatigue of deafness, Blake, C. J., 174; some of the indications for opening the membrana tympani, 176; nasal obstruction with reference to aural disease, Leland, G. A., 199; auditory aphasia, Pershing, H. T., 321; three cases of extra-dural abscesses, operations and recoveries, Green, J. O., 533; acute inflammation of the antrum of Highmore, Cobb, F. C., 594, 603.

Eczema. Some obstinate forms of eczema, Abbott, C. S., 373.

Editorials. Medical men and their health, 19; dolichocephaly and tuberculosis, 20; Haffkine's plague prophylactic fluid, 42; medical reticence, 67; recent foreign literature on appendicitis, 91; the new tuberculin, 115; a new research laboratory for India, 116; the bacillus icteroides, 116; concerning hysteria, 139; the radical cure of inguinal hernia by injections of chloride of zinc, 163, beri-beri at the Richmond Asylum, Dublin, 164; poisons in etiology, 187; ether and chloroform, 215; the International Congress: the British Medical Association, 245; the sanitary service of railways and navigation, 272; splenectomy, 208; the new tuberculin, 299; the diminishing death-rate in New York, 300; expert testimony, 323; the influence upon nervous affections of operations upon the female pelvic organs, 325; nature and treatment of Ménière's disease, 352; two points of view, 353; congenital dislocations of the shoulder, 379; has the cellular nucleus independent existence? 379; the surgery of the stomach, 400; subcutaneous injections of the salicylate of mercury, 501; Lowell Institute lectures by Professors Darwin and Foster, 426; the heredity of acquired characteristics, 427; is the sympathetic system the seat of the emotions? 450; protection in France against foreign medical practitioners, 451; narcotism and alcoholism, 452; yellow fever, sero-immunization and sero-therapy, 474; a department of public health, 501; meddlesome midwifery, 502; a new method for the radical cure of inguinal hernia, 526; the Michigan monthly bulletin of vital statistics, 527; health legislation in Germany, 554; department of mental diseases at the Boston Dispensary, 579; sewer gas and sewer ventilation, 580; Nicholas Ivanovitch Pirogoff, 604; a forty years' summary of the vital statistics of Massachusetts, 606; the proposed yellow fever commission, 633; treatment of fracture of the patella, 633; on the frequency of plural births, 635; the relative safety of chloroform and ether, 660; the twenty-eighth annual report of the Massachusetts State Board of Health, 661; annual report of the surgeon-general of the United States Navy, 662; notification of measles, 663; annus medicus, 679.

Edson, C. E. Notes upon Denver weather, 515.

Education. The people of the State of Colorado on relation of Frank Jerome vs. the regents of the University of Colorado, 118; the Hahnemann Hospital College and the University of California, 218; physical training, its function and place in education, Hartwell, E. M., 357; the need of medical examining boards, Hamaker, W. P., 581.

Ehrlich, H. A case of septic pyelitis following cystitis, as a complication of the puerperium, 444.

Eichberg, J. The hot bath in the treatment of pneumonia, 41.

Eliot, C. W. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 264.

Elsner's method of diagnosis in typhoid fever, Richardson, M. W., 16.

Emotions. Is the sympathetic system the seat of the emotions? 450.

Engelmann, G. J. Remarks on symphyseotomy, 34, 37.

Enteroptosis as a clinical factor in the diseases of women, Stone, A. K., 332, 348; movable kidney and enteroptosis, Lund, F. B., 335, 346; enteroptosis, Dole, M. P., 345.

Ether. The use of ether in obstetric practice, Green, C. M., 198, 205; chloroform and ether, Keefe, D. E., 641; the relative safety of chloroform and ether, 660.

Everett, W. S. An incident in the history of vaccination, 77.

Excision of hip, Townsend, W. R., 161.

Experts. Expert testimony, 323; medical expert testimony, a proposed law, 505.

Eye. On the occurrence of retinal hemorrhage after middle age and its bearing on the duration of life, Derby, H., 83; anomalies of muscular balance, Wadsworth, O. F., 100; some phases of lachrymal obstruction and their treatment, Harrower, D., 102; contagious conjunctivitis, Standish, M., 129; purulent ophthalmia from the bacteriological standpoint, Daly, W. F., 131; convergent strabismus, Williams, C. H., 151; hemorrhage attending the extraction of cataract, Wadsworth, O. F., 308; the degeneration of eyes, Hiland, T., 371; glaucoma, Carvelle, H. deW., 372; a case of moon-blindness, Centervall, I. A., 383; the use of tincture of iodine in chronic trachoma and pannus, Baxter, W. E., 417; ocular headaches, Greenwood, A., 614.

Farlow, J. W. Subglottic tumor removed by tracheotomy and curetting, 213.

Femur. Chondro-sarcoma of the femur, Cabot, A. T., 161; four cases of recent fracture of the neck of the femur, Ridlon, J., 162.

Fever. Alcoholic stimulation in continued fevers, Cabot, R. C., 573.

Fisk, S. A. Digestion vs. drugs in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, 112; the people of the State of Colorado on relation of Frank Jerome vs. the regents of the University of Colorado, 118.

Fistula in ano. Palliative and operative treatment of fistula in ano, Blake, J. B., 230.

Fitz, G. W. A study of measurements in curvature of the spine, 310.

Flick, L. F. The treatment of tuberculosis by iodoform inunctions, 40.

Flora. Study of the American medicinal flora, Rusby, H. H., 22.

Florida. Winter Park, Florida, as a winter resort, Chamberlain, C. N., 667.

Food. Food nostrums, Harrington, C., 292; the adulteration of food and drugs, 382; the price of bread in Italy and the health of the poor, 436.

Foot. The human foot in art, Bradford, E. H., 305.

Fordyce, J. A. Symmetrical atrophy of the skin, 425; impetigo herpetiformis or dermatitis herpetiformis, 448.

Foster, M. Lowell Institute lectures by Professors Darwin and Foster, 426.

Fox, G. H. The various forms of pityriasis and their relation to erythema, eczema and psoriasis, 423.

Fracture of humerus from muscular action, Meigs, J. V., 13; fractures of the lower jaw and their treatment, Moriarty, P. W., 509.

France. Protection in France against foreign medical practitioners, 451.

Fry, F. R. Spinal leptomeningitis, 319.

Fuller, E. Chronic contraction of the prostatic fibres encircling the vesical neck, 62; tubercular necrosis of the prostate, 63.

Fussel, M. H. Perichondritis of the larynx in typhoid fever, 17.

Gait. An examination of human gait, Bradford, E. H., 329.

Gall-stones formed on the sutures of an operation for cholecystotomy twenty months ago, Homans, J., 13.

Garceau, E. Some cases of cystitis, 97, 109, 126, 437.

Gardiner, C. F. The dangers of tubercular infection and their partial arrest by climatic influences, 89.

Gauze Drainage, Harrington, F. B., 150, 157; notes on surgical gauzes, Hall, H. J., 518.

Gay, G. W. A case of ligature of the innominate artery for aneurism, 73, 87.

Generative System. Priapism, Taylor, R. W., 62; chronic contraction of the prostatic fibres encircling the vesical neck, Fuller, E., 62; tubercular necrosis of the prostate, Fuller, E., 63; a report of a case of hernia testis, Allen, G. W., 64; the relation of oxaluria and uric-acid excess to genito-urinary inflammations and disorders, Lewis, B., 65; a case of double ovariotomy during pregnancy, Kingman, R. A., 103, 108; a case of ovariotomy during pregnancy, Burrage, W. L., 104, 108; the choice between the abdominal and vaginal incisions in the operative treatment of acute pelvic inflammations, with some remarks upon the technique of the vaginal operation, Reynolds, E., 146, 158; triple glans, 166; recovery from a gunshot wound of the uterus, Neugebauer, 191; the influence upon nervous affections of operations upon the female pelvic organs, 325; treatment of uterine displacements, McMurphy, N. W., 372; a case of emasio mensium or absolute amenorrhea in a married woman, twenty-six years old, Burrage, W. L., 393, 398; ventro-fixation with a report of two operations on the same case, Kaan, G. W., 393, 397; lymphangioma of the labia majora, White, J. C., 447; a case of diphtheria of the vulva, Coues, W. P., 470; recent progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 548; a case of oöphorectomy during labor, Reynolds, E., 647, 654; division of the utero-sacral ligaments and suspensio uteri for immobile retroposition with acute flexion, Burrage, W. L., 652.

Gerhardt. The serum test for the diagnosis of typhoid, 16.

Germany. Health legislation in Germany, 554.

Gilchrist. A discussion upon the x-rays, 423.

Gilchrist, T. C. Eleven cases of porokeratosis (Mibelli) or hyperkeratosis excentrica (Respighi) in one family, 445; pseudo-lupus of the face due to the presence and growth of blastomyces or budding organisms resembling yeast plants, 446.

Gillette, A. J. Traumatic spondylitis, 137.

Gleitsmann, J. W. Treatment of chronic affections of the tonsils with demonstration of instruments, 185.

Goat's milk. An inquiry: use of goat's milk, Parker, W. T., 192.

Goldthwait, J. E. Treatment of deformities of the knee resulting from tumor albus, with especial reference to the cases in which the patella has become adherent, 162; drawing of the knee joint, 318; the direct transplantation of muscles in the treatment of paralytic deformities, 489.

Gonorrhea in women, Cushing, E. W., 249.

Goodale, J. L. A new cutting forceps, 370.

Goodman, J. F. Man and medicine, 539.

Gout, Hutchinson, W., 41; treatment of gout by natural mineral waters, Ransom, C. C., 113.

Graham. The symptoms and diagnosis of cholelithiasis, 351.

Greeley, G. H. Acute cerebral meningitis, 373.

Green, C. M. The use of ether in obstetric practice, 198, 205.

Green, J. O. Some of the general principles which should govern operations for otitic brain disease, 145; three cases of extra-dural abscesses, operations and recoveries, 533.

Greene, R. W. Remarks on secondary puerperal hemorrhage, with report of two cases, 152.

Greene, W. W. Bibliography of articles by Wm. Warren Greene, M.D., 583.

Greenleaf, R. W. A case of aconite poisoning, 57.

Greenwood, A. Ocular headaches, 614.

Grindon, J. A peculiar affection of the hair follicle, 446.

Gunshot wound of the head, Swan, W. D., 618.

Gynecology. Recent progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 548.

Haffkine's plague prophylactic fluid, 42.

Hahnemann Hospital College and the University of California, 218.

Hall, H. J. Notes on surgical gauzes, 518.

Hamaker, W. P. The need of medical examining boards, 581.

Harrington, C. Food nostrums, 292.

Harrington, F. B. Gauze drainage, 150, 157.

Harrower, D. Some phases of lachrymal obstruction and their treatment, 102.

Hartigan, J. W. An unusual weight for a child at term, 557.

Hartley, F. A new method for the removal of diseased processes in the neck posterior to the sterno-mastoid muscle, 409, 421.

Hartwell, E. M. Boston Board of Municipal Statistics, 189; physical training, its function and place in education, 357.

Hartzell, M. B. Impetigo herpetiformis, 446.

Hastings, R. W. Quinine nose-bleed, 677.

Health boards and the Widal test for typhoid fever, Cabot, R. C., 276.

Heart. Penetrating wound of the heart, recovery, Parrozzani, 190.

Heredity of acquired characteristics, 427.

Hernia. The radical cure of inguinal hernia by injections of chloride of zinc, 163; a new method for the radical cure of inguinal hernia, 526.

Herter, C. A. Sarcoma of mid-brain in a child, associated with asymmetrical hydrocephalus, 377; pachymeningitis hemorrhagica interna in children, 656.

Hewes, H. F. A record of the treatment of four cases of pulmonary tuberculosis with Koch's new tuberculin, 259; the chemical analysis of the gastric contents, 535, 565.

Hibbard, C. M. A case of gastric ulcer in a child four months old, 177.

Higgins, F. A. A lock for the Reynolds axis-traction forceps, 652.

Hiland, T. The degeneration of eyes, 371.

Hildreth, J. L. The public care of the insane poor in Massachusetts, 461, 485.
Hinsdale. G. Remarks on the treatment of tuberculosis by the anti-tubercle serum, 416.
Hip. Late excision of the hip, Lovett, R. W., 7.
Hoch. A case of acute insanity associated with definite changes in the internal structure of the nerve cells, 182.
Homans, J. Gall stones formed on the sutures of an operation for cholecystotomy twenty months ago, 13; a case of nephrectomy for renal abscess, calculous pyelitis and cholecystotomy in the same patient, recovery, 547.
Hopkins, F. E. A case of adeno-carcinoma of the nose, 213; operation for correcting deformity of the nasal septum, 669.
Horlbeck. Address before the American Public Health Association, 522.
Horses. Sun-bonnets for horses, 274.
Hospital and dispensary abuse, 23.
Hubbard. L. W. The prognosis of hip disease under efficient treatment, 162.
Hughes, J. W. The drainage, plumbing and ventilation of public and private buildings, 522.
Humerus. Fracture of humerus from muscular action, Meigs, J. V., 13.
Hunter, W. Cholelithiasis, 350.
Hurd, E. P. Sudden death due to alcoholism, 619.
Hutchinson, W. Gout, 41; the "skin heart" as a factor in the human circulation, with special reference to the Brand and Schott treatments, 511.
Hyde, J. N. A contribution to the study of bleeding stigmata, 423.
Hydrocephalus. Chron c hydrocephalus—puncture, Beach, H. H. A., 676.
Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. Report of committee on steamship and steamboat sanitation, Montizambert, F., 521; a study of yellow fever from a medico-geographical point of view, Liceaga, E., 521; the drainage, plumbing and ventilation of public and private buildings, Hughes, J. W., 522; car sanitation, Woodbridge, S. H., 522; address before the American Public Health Association, Horlbeck, 522; meat inspection, Pearson, L., 523; report of the committee on transportation of diseased tissue by mail, Lachapelle, E. P., 524; consumption as an indoor disease, Abbott, S. W., 524; the urgent need of sanitaria for the consumptive poor of large cities, Knopf, S. A., 524; health legislation in Germany, 554; the bill for a department of public health, Austin, H. W., 559; a department for public health and the American Medical Association, Wingate, U. O. B., 582.
Hysteria. Concerning hysteria, 139.
Ingals, E. F. Address before the American Climatological Association, 88.
Instruments and Apparatus. A new modification of the hip-splint, Dane, J., 59; gauze drainage, Harrington, F. B., 150, 157; a new cutting forceps, Goodale, J. L., 371; notes on surgical gauzes, Hall, H. J., 518; a new electrical nasal saw, Cobb, F. C., 520; a lock for the Reynolds axis-traction forceps, Higgins, F. A., 652.
Internal medicine as a vocation, Osler, W., 447.
Intubation. A case of intubation at the age of four months and ten days, Taylor, F. W., 239; report of forty cases of intubation, Stevens, C. B., 288.
Italy. The price of bread in Italy and the health of the poor, 430.
Jack, F. L. Some of the indications for opening the membrana tympani, 176.
Jackson, H. A sign of cardiac failure, 467, 473.
Jacobi, A. Twelfth International Medical Congress, 94.
Jacoby, G. W. Thomsen's disease, 656.
Jewett, C. P. The treatment of puerperal septic diseases, 552.
Johnston, W. Serum diagnosis of typhoid fever, 455.
Judd, L. D. Two remarkable recoveries from malignant diphtheria, 113.
Judkins, W. Recurrent stone in the bladder of a child, 64.
Kaan, G. W. Ventro-fixation, with a report of two operations on the same case, 393, 397.
Kaiserling. Specimens preserved with their natural color by Kaiserling's method, Whitney, W. F., 316; the preservation of specimens with their natural colors by Kaiserling's method, Whitney, W. F., 621.
Keefe, D. E. Chloroform and ether, 641.
Ketch, S. The work and influence of the American Orthopedic Association, 136.
Kidder, E. H. Two cases of cholecystotomy, 369.
Kingman, R. A. A case of double ovariotomy during pregnancy, 103.
Kinnear, B. O. Pneumonia treated by heat over the spine and by the inhalation of pure oxygen, 575.
Kinnicutt, F. P. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 265.
Klotz, G. H. Strong solutions of the ichthyol group in acute and chronic inflammatory conditions of the skin, 424.
Knapp, P. C. Anesthesia in spinal diseases, 320.
Knee. Tubercular knee-joints, Nichols, E. H., 158; drawing of the knee-joint, Goldthwait, J. E., 318.
Knight, C. H. President's address before the American Laryngological Association, 183.
Knight, F. I. Choice of a summer residence in New England, 111.
Knopf, S. A. Aëro-therapeutics and hydro-therapeutics in the treatment and prevention of pulmonary tuberculosis, 89; the urgent need of sanitaria for the consumptive poor of large cities, 524.
Koch's new tuberculin in lupus, 142; Koch's new tuberculin, 142.
Laboratory. A research laboratory for India, 116.
Lachapelle, E. P. Report of the committee on the transportation of diseased tissue by mail, 524.
Langdon, F. W. Focal cord lesions, 320.
Langmaid, S. W. Sub-mucous hemorrhage of the vocal cords, 184.
Larynx. President's address before the American Laryngological Association, Knight, C. H., 183; guaiacol as a local anesthetic in minor operations in the nose and throat, Newcomb, J. E., 184; sub-mucous hemorrhage of the vocal cords, Langmaid, S. W., 184; a further contribution to the study of laryngeal phthisis, Murray, T. M., 213; primary lupus of the larynx, Mayer, E., 213; recent progress in laryngology, Coolidge, A., Jr., 598.
Leet, J. A. Phlebotomy, 373.
Leland, G. A. The centennial introductory address, Dartmouth Medical School, July 14, 1896, 25; nasal obstruction with reference to aural disease, 199.
Leprosy. General conclusions of the International Leprosy Conference, Berlin, 1897, 557.
Leszynsky, W. M. Epilepsy following infantile cerebral palsy, improvement after craniotomy and evacuation of subcortical cyst, 377.
Lewis, B. The relation of oxaluria and uric-acid excess to genito-urinary inflammations and disorders, 65.
Liceaga, E. A study of yellow fever from a medico-geographical point of view, 521.
Liebmann, G. My experience with hyperacidity, 465.
Lincoln, J. R. Gastric ulcer in the new-born, 178.
London. Public health in London, Macdonald, W. G., 610.
Londonderry, Lord. Lord Londonderry advocates disease dissemination, 434.
Lovett, R. W. Late excision of the hip, 7; spondylolisthesis, 137; fifty resections in hip-joint disease, 138.
Lowell Institute lectures by Professors Darwin and Foster, 426.
Lund, F. B. Movable kidney and enteroptosis, 335, 346.
Macdonald, W. G. In Neisser's hospital, 46; public health in London, 610.
McMurphy, N. W. Treatment of uterine displacements, 372.
Maidstone epidemic of typhoid, 505.
Mallory, F. B. A case of ruptured aorta, 315.
Malpractice. Suits for malpractice, Wallace, A. S., 373.
Man and medicine, Goodman, J. F., 530.
Marriage by capture in Arabia, Holden, E. S., 529.
Martin, E. Detection of stone in the kidney, 39.
Massachusetts General Hospital, clinical meeting of the staff, 491; second clinical meeting of the staff, 623.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. Study of the American medicinal flora, Rusby, H. H., 22; the hot bath in the treatment of pneumonia, Eichberg, J., 41; Haffkine's plague prophylactic fluid, 42; a case of aconite poisoning, Greenleaf, R. W., 57; a case of atropine poisoning, Vickery, H. F., 59; report on progress in therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 85; a caution against the use of antefebrin on extensively blistered surfaces, Boland, E. S., 95; oil of turpentine as a remedial agent, Walker, J. B., 113; treatment of gout by natural mineral waters, Ransom, C. C., 113; the new tuberculin, 115; guaiacol as a local anesthetic in minor operations on the nose and throat, Newcomb, J. E., 184; chloroform in obstetrics, Davis, E. P., 193, 205; the superiority of chloroform as an anesthetic in midwifery practice, Worcester, A., 196, 205; the use of ether in obstetric practice, Green, C. M., 198, 205; a record of the treatment of four cases of pulmonary tuberculosis with Koch's new tuberculin, Hewes, H. F., 259; subcutaneous injections of the salicylate of mercury, 401; remarks on the treatment of tuberculosis by the anti-tubercle serum, Hinsdale, G., 416; the use of tincture of iodine in chronic trachoma and pannus, Baxter, W. B., 417; alcoholic stimulation in continued fevers, Cabot, R. C., 573; report on progress in therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 626.
Mayer, E. Primary lupus of the larynx, 213.
Mays, T. J. The salicylate treatment of hemoptysis, 90.
Measles. The notification of measles, 663.
Meat inspection, Pearson, L., 523.
Medical men and their health, 19.
Meigs, J. V. Fracture of humerus from muscular action, 13; three cases of abdominal stab-wound, laparotomy in each case, with recovery, 597.
Meniere. Nature and treatment of Ménière's disease, 352.
Michigan. The monthly bulletin of vital statistics, 527.
Millard, F. R. Triple glans, 166.
Mind. The effect of climate upon neurasthenia and melancholia, Taylor, J. M., 90; a case of acute insanity associated with definite changes in the internal structure of the nerve cells, Hoch, 182; the relation of mental diseases to general medicine, Cowles, E., 277, 297; steps toward insanity, Baker, S., 378; two cases of homicidal, amnesic, transitory frenzy, Bancroft, C. P., 385; the insane poor in private dwellings in Massachusetts, Mitchell, A., 457; the public care of the insane in Massachusetts, Hildreth, J. L., 461, 485; department of mental diseases at the Boston Dispensary, 579; characteristics of insanity, Channing, W. F., 585, 613; the insane poor in private dwellings in Massachusetts, Moulton, A. R., 616.
Mitchell, A. The insane poor in private dwellings in Massachusetts, 457.
Money rouleaux, 327.
Montgomery, D. N. Hereditary and continuous shedding of the finger-nails, 425.
Montgomery, D. W. Acquired idiosyncrasy for quinine as shown by purpura and bleeding of the gums, 646.
Montizambert, F. Report of committee on steamship and steamboat sanitation, 521.
Moon-blindness. A case of moon-blindness, Centervall, I. A., 383.
Moriarty, P. W. Fractures of the lower jaw and their treatment, 509.
Morrow, P. A. Linear nevus, 423.
Mortality. The diminishing death-rate in New York, 300.
Moscow. Some recollections of the Twelfth International Congress at Moscow, Watson, F. S., 588.
Moulton, A. R. The insane poor in private dwellings in Massachusetts, 616.
Movable Kidney. Report of post-mortem examinations in some cases of movable kidney, Watson, F. S., 37; clinical observations on loose and displaced kidneys, Bryson, J. P., 38.
Murray, T. M. A further contribution to the study of laryngeal phthisis, 213.
Muscles. The direct transplantation of muscles in the treatment of paralytic deformities, Goldthwaite, J. E., 489.
Musser, J. H., and Swan, J. M. A clinical report on sero-diagnosis, 16.
Neck. A new method for the removal of diseased processes in the neck posterior to the sterno-mastoid muscle, Hartley, F., 409, 421.
Neisser. In Neisser's hospital, Macdonald, W. G., 46.
Nelson as a patient, 166.
Nervous System. Intra-tympanic disease as a factor in the causation of aural vertigo, Blake, C. J., 5, 14; a case of traumatic cerebral edema, operation, death, White, H. W., and Courtney, J. W., 11; observations on two examples of typhoid meningeal infection, Ohlmacher, A. P., 17; dolichocephaly and tuberculosis, 20; the effect of climate upon neurasthenia and melancholia, Taylor, J. M., 90; diseases of the nervous system affected by climate, Brown, S., 90; climate in relation to the nervous system, Brown, D. R., 114; concerning hysteria, 139; case of temporo-sphenoidal tumor presenting symptoms of abscess, Richardson, W. L., and Walton, G. L., 169; a case of acute insanity associated with definite changes in the internal structure of the nerve cell, Hoch, 182; "carding" the sciatic nerve, Del genière, 219; clinical report of an epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis, Williams, F. H., 311; address before the American Neurological Association, Starr, M. A., 319; primary idiopathic hydrocephalus in adults, Prince, M., 319; spinal leptomeningitis, Fry, F. R., 319; subarachnoid serous exudation productive of pressure symptoms after head injuries, Walton, G. L., 319; focal cord lesions, Langdon, F. W., 320, anesthesia in spinal diseases, Knapp, P. C., 320; syringomyelia, Patrick, H. T., 321; so-called poliencephalitis superior and inferior, Patrick, H. T., 321; auditory aphasia, Pershing, H. T., 321; the influence upon nervous affections of operations upon the female pelvic organs, 325; acute cerebral meningitis, Greeley, G. H., 373; causes and recent treatment of neurasthenia, Quackenboss, J. D., 374; encephalitis with changes in the pia, Wiener, A., 374; Little's disease: shall we retain the name? Sachs, B., 375; the nature and treatment of spasmodic torticollis, Walton, G. L., 375; some interesting cases of brain tumor, Zenner, P., 376; sarcoma of mid-brain in a child, associated with asymmetrical hydrocephalus, Herter, C. A., 377; epilepsy following infantile cerebral palsy, improvement after craniotomy and evacuation of subcortical cyst, Leszynsky, W. M., 377; uncommon nasal paresthetic neurosis, Ayres, S., 378; climate or environment as a factor in the repair of neurasthenia and melancholia, Taylor, J. M., 415; hysterical dermato-neuroses, Van Harlingen, A., 423; is the sympathetic system the seat of the emotions? 459; exophthalmic goitre, Putnam, J. J., 492; acute cerebro-spinal meningitis, Shattuck, F. C., 499; report of a case of asthmatic paroxysms taking the place of epileptic fits, Clark, L. P., 622; two cases of cervical myelitis, Putnam, J. J., 623; ocular headaches, Greenwood, A., 641; a consideration of the paresthetic neuroses, psychroesthesia and kaumesthesia, Dana, C. L., 654; Thomsen's disease, Jacoby, G. W., 656; pachymeningitis hemorrhagica interna in children, Herter, C. A., 656; the pathology and morbid anatomy of Huntington's chorea, with remarks on the development and treatment of the disease, Collins, J., 657; brain desuetude, Crichton-Browne, J., 664; cerebral syphilis, with report of a case of chronic meningo-encephalitis secondary to syphilis, Barney, C. N., 671, 677.

Newcomb, J. E. Guaiacol as a local anesthetic in minor operations in the nose and throat, 184.

Newton, R. C. Some personal observations upon the effects of changes of climate upon men and animals, 112.

Neugebauer. Recovery from a gunshot wound of the uterus, 191.

Nevus. Linear nevus, Morrow, P. A., 423.

Nichols, A. H. Injuries, 181.

Nichols, E. H. Tubercular knee-joints, 158.

Nicoladoni. Plastic operations on the thumb, 274.

Nose. Papillary edematous nasal polypi and their relations to adenomata, Wright, J., 213; a case of adeno-sarcoma of the nose, Hopkins, F. E., 213; operation for correcting deformity of the nasal septum, Hopkins, F. E., 664; the soft catheter in plugging the nose, Smithwick, M. P., 677; quinine nose-bleed, Hastings, R. W., 677.

Obstetrics. Chloroform in obstetrics, Davis, E. P., 193, 205; the superiority of chloroform as an anesthetic in midwifery practice, Worcester, A., 196, 205; the use of ether in obstetric practice, Green, C. M., 198, 205; recent progress in obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 417.

Ohlmacher, A. P. Observations on two examples of typhoid meningeal infection, 17.

Opium. An examination of forty-three published cases of opium or morphine poisoning, Bartlett, E. S., 674.

Orthopraxy. The work and influence of the American Orthopedic Association, Ketch, S., 136; erasion of the knee-joint with conservation of the epiphyseal cartilage, Sherman, H. M., 136; traumatic spondylitis, Gillette, A. J., 137; spondylolisthesis, Lovett, R. W., 137; treatment of torticollis, Brackett, E. G., 137; congenital dislocation of the shoulder-joint, Scudder, C. L., 138; a case of asymmetrical development, Shands, A. R., 138; some effects upon the leg of pronation of the foot, Dane, J., 138; fifty resections in hip-joint disease, Lovett, R. W., 138; excision of hip, Townsend, W. R., 161; the prognosis of hip disease under efficient treatment, Hubbard, L. W., 162; treatment of deformities of the knee resulting from tumor albus, with especial reference to the cases in which the patella has become adherent, Goldthwait, J. E., 162; a study of measurements in curvature of the spine, Fitz, G. W., 310.

Osler, W. Relapses in typhoid fever, 17; British medicine in Greater Britain, 221; internal medicine as a vocation, 447.

Ovariotomy. A case of double ovariotomy during pregnancy, Kingman, R. A., 103, 108; a case of ovariotomy during pregnancy, Burrage, W. L., 104, 108.

Oysters and typhoid fever, 327.

Palate. Cleft palate, Porter, C. B., 495; treatment of congenital cleft palate by mechanism, Raymond, G. A., 596, 600.

Palmer, H. Mucous colitis, 372.

Palmer, S. E. Pathological specimens, 107.

Park, W. H., and Wright, J. Bacteria of the normal nose and bactericidal properties of nasal mucus, 185.

Parker, W. T. An inquiry: use of goat's milk, 192.

Parrozzani. Penetrating wound of the heart, recovery, 190.

Patella. Treatment of fracture of the patella, 633.

Patrick, H. T. Syringomyelia, 321; so-called poliencephalitis superior and inferior, 321.

Pearce, R. M. The bacteriology of lobar and lobular pneumonia: various infections due to the diplococcus lanceolatus, 561.

Pearson, L. Meat inspection, 523.

Pericarditis, some points in its diagnosis and treatment, Shattuck, F. C., 28.

Pershing, H. T. Auditory aphasia, 321.

Pfaif, F. Treatment of constipation, 256.

Phlebotomy, Leet, J. A., 373.

Physical training, its function and place in education, Hartwell, E. M., 357.

Physiology. The American Journal of Physiology, 431.

Pirogoff, 604.

Plague. Haffkine's plague prophylactic fluid, 42.

Pleasure without other sensations, Scripture, E. W., 219.

Poison. A case of aconite poisoning, Greenleaf, R. W., 57; a case of atropine poisoning, Vickery, H. F., 59; poisons in etiology, 187; an examination of forty-three published cases of opium or morphine poisoning, Bartlett, E. J., 674.

Pollitzer, S. The nature of the xanthomata, 424.

Polypus. Some cases of urethral polypus, Reynolds, E., 443, 445.

Pomeroy, E. H. A case of symphyseotomy, 36, 37.

Porter, C. B. Intestinal obstruction from band, 494; cleft palate, 495; multiple lipoma of the skin, cystic adenoma of sebaceous glands, 625.

Powell, A. Fracture of patella by a surgeon during forcible flexion, 506.

Pregnancy, Affections connected with. Remarks on symphyseotomy, Engelmann, G. J., 34, 37; a case of Cæsarean section, Reynolds, E., 35; case of symphyseotomy, Pomeroy, E. H., 36, 37; a case of double ovariotomy during pregnancy, Kingman, R. A., 103, 108; a case of ovariotomy during pregnancy, Burrage, W. L., 104, 108; remarks on secondary puerperal hemorrhage, with report of two cases, Greene, R. W., 152; acute tuberculosis in puerperal women, Call, E. L., 342, 350; phthisis and child-bearing, Townsend, C. W., 391, 398; a case of septic pyelitis following cystitis, as a complication of the puerperium, Ehrlich, H., 444; meddlesome midwifery, 502; the treatment of puerperal septic diseases, Jewett, C. P., 552; an unusual weight for a child at term, Hartigan, J. W., 557; on the frequency of plural births, 635; a case of oöphorectomy during labor, Reynolds, E., 647, 654.

Prescriptions. Quod scripsi, 637.

Prince, M. Primary idiopathic hydrocephalus in adults, 319.

Public Health. A department of public health, 501.

Putnam, J. J. Exophthalmic goitre, 492; two cases of cervical myelitis, 623.

Quack. A qualified quack, 94.

Quackenboss, J. D. Causes and recent treatment of neurasthenia, 374.

Quinine. Acquired idiosyncrasy for quinine as shown by purpura and bleeding of the gums, Montgomery, D. W., 646; quinine nose-bleed, Hastings, R. W., 677.

Ransom, C. C. Treatment of gout by natural mineral waters, 113.

Raw. Another application of x-rays, 143.

Raymond, G. A. Treatment of congenital cleft palate by mechanism, 596, 600.

Recent Progress. Therapeutics, Williams, F. H., 85, 626; diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 105, 630; surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 154, 178, 312; obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 417; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 471; gynecology, Reynolds, E., 548; laryngology, Coolidge, A. Jr., 598.

Respiratory System. Curability of pulmonary tuberculosis, Borland, E. B., 40; the treatment of croupous pneumonia, Campbell, D. S., 41; a brief consideration of some points in the management of consumption, Babcock, R. H., 88; observations upon pulmonary tuberculosis in Colorado, Bonney, S. G., 89; aëro-therapeutics and hydrotherapeutics in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, Knopf, S. A., 89; the salicylate treatment of hemoptysis, Mays, T. J., 89; digestion vs. drugs in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, Fisk, S. A., 112; the tuberculin test in ten cases of acute pleurisy, Sears, G. G., 121; the diagnostic value of tuberculin, White, F. W., 123, 134; president's address before the American Laryngological Association, Knight, C. H., 183, guaiacol as a local anesthetic in minor operations in the nose and throat, Newcomb, J. E., 184; submucous hemorrhage of the vocal cords, Langmaid, S. W., 184; bacteria of the normal nose and bactericidal properties of nasal mucus, Park, W. H., and Wright, J., 185; intra-nasal tumor, Bryan, J. H., 185; report of a case of suppurative inflammation of the frontal, ethmoidal and maxillary sinuses, Bryan, J. H., 186; consumption not contagious, Dulles, C. W., 236; a case of intubation at the age of four months and ten days, Taylor, F. W., 239; a record of the treatment of four cases of pulmonary tuberculosis with Koch's new tuberculin, Hewes, F. H., 259; observations upon pulmonary tuberculosis in Colorado, Bonney, S. G., 282; report of forty cases of intubation, Stevens, C. B., 288; the prevention of pneumonia following anesthesia, Whitney, W. F., 311, 316; phthisis and child-bearing, Townsend, C. W., 391, 398; remarks on the treatment of tuberculosis by the anti-tubercle serum, Hinsdale, G., 416; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 471; consumption as an indoor disease, Abbott, S. W., 524; the urgent need of sanitaria for the consumptive poor of large cities, Knopf, S. A., 524; the bacteriology of lobar and lobular pneumonia: various infections due to the diplococcus lanceolatus, Pearce, R. M., 561; record of two cases of beginning pulmonary tuberculosis treated with subcutaneous injections of Koch's tuberculin T. R., Cutler, E. G., 571, 577; pneumonia treated by heat over the spine and by the inhalation of pure oxygen, Kinnear, B. O., 575; report of a case of asthmatic paroxysms taking the place of epileptic fits, Clark, L. P., 622; Addison's disease and pneumothorax, Shattuck, F. C., 624.

Reticence. Medical reticence, 67.

Reynolds, E. A case of Cæsarean section, 35; the choice between the abdominal and vaginal incisions in the operative treatment of acute pelvic inflammations, with some remarks upon the technique of the vaginal operation, 146, 158; a case of renal stone, 398; some cases of urethral polypus, 443, 445; recent progress in gynecology, 548; a case of oöphorectomy during labor, 647, 654.

Rhinitis. Discussion on atrophic rhinitis, Casselberry, 211.

Rhoades, J. H. Medical responsibility for the abuse of medical charity, 430.

Richardson, M. W. Elsner's method of diagnosis in typhoid fever, 16; on the bacteriological examination of the stools in typhoid fever and its value in diagnosis, 433; a case of cholecystitis due to the typhoid bacillus, 570.

Richardson, W. L., and Walton, G. L. Case of temporo-sphenoidal tumor presenting symptoms of abscess, 169.

Ridlon, J. Four cases of recent fracture of the neck of the femur, 162.
Robinson, F. C. Disinfectants, 523.
Rochester, D. L. How to treat tuberculosis, 40.
Rontgen. The uses of the x-rays in medicine, Williams, F. H., 18; another application of x-rays, Raw, 143; a discussion upon the x-rays, Gilchrist, 423.
Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H. Report on diseases of children, 105, 650.
Rovinsky, A. The International Medical Congress at Moscow, 405; Billroth and Pirogoff, 666.
Ruhrah, J. Actinomycosis hominis, 639.
Rusby, H. H. Study of the American medicinal flora, 22.
Ryan, C. S. Surgery on the battlefield without anesthesia, 610.
Sachs, B. Little's disease; shall we retain the name? 375.
Sanarelli, G. Yellow fever and the bacillus icteroides, 93.
Sanitary Service. The sanitary service of railways and navigation, 272.
Saundby, R. On the dietetic treatment of diabetics, 270.
Scapula. Total excision of the scapula for sarcoma, Warren, J. C., 624.
Scholar in medicine, DaCosta, J. M., 229.
Science in medicine, Cabot, A. T., 481.
Scripture, E. W. Pleasure without other sensations, 219.
Scudder, C. L. A case of nephrectomy for cystic adenoma in a pregnant woman, 64; congenital dislocation of the shoulder-joint, 138.
Sears, G. G. The tuberculin test in ten cases of acute pleurisy, 121; report on progress in thoracic diseases, 471.
Sero-therapeutics. Serum test for the diagnosis of typhoid, Gerhardt, 16; a clinical report on sero-diagnosis, Musser, J. H., and Swan, J. M., 16; the accidents produced in sero-therapeutics, Cumston, C. G., 23.
Sewer gas and sewer ventilation, 580.
Shands, A. R. A case of asymmetrical development, 138.
Shattuck, F. C. Pericarditis, some points in its diagnosis and treatment, 28; atonic dilatation of stomach, gastrorrhaphy, 495; acute cerebro-spinal meningitis, 499; Addison's disease and pneumothorax, 624.
Shattuck, G. B. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 263.
Shepherd, F. J. Some cases of feigned eruption, 426.
Sherman, H. M. Erasion of the knee-joint with conservation of the epiphyseal cartilage, 136.
Shock. Ruptures of the viscera and their connection with surgical shock, Dwight, E. W., 171, 182.
Shoulder. Congenital dislocation of the shoulder-joint, Scudder, C. L., 138; round shoulders, Bradford, E. H., 257; the reduction of old dislocations of the shoulder, 379; the diagnosis of some common injuries in the shoulder region, Vietor, A. C., 412, 439.
"Skin Heart." The "skin heart" as a factor in the human circulation, with special reference to the Brand and Schott treatments, Hutchinson, W., 511.
Small pox. Diagnosis of small-pox, Wright, F. W., 523.
Smart, C. Report of the committee on pollution of water-supplies, 523.
Smith, C. D. Bacterial features of typhoid with special reference to pathology and diagnosis, 295.
Smithwick, M. P. The soft catheter in plugging the nose, 677.
Societies. American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, 37, 61; American Climatological Association, 88, 111; American Dermatological Association, 422, 445; American Laryngological Association, 183, 211; American Medical Association, 16, 40; American Orthopedic Association, 136, 161; American Public Health Association, 521; Boston Medico-Psychological Society, 182; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 13, 87, 181, 346, 600; British Medical Association, 245, 269, 302, 350; Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 263; International Congress at Moscow, 245, 405, 588; Maine Medical Association, 319, 374; New Hampshire Medical Society, 371; New York Academy of Medicine, 447, 552; New York Neurological Society, 654, Obstetrical Society of Boston, 37, 205, 397, 445, 652; Suffolk District Medical Society, 60, 107, 134, 240, 315, 348, 421, 473, 577, 677.
Spalding, F. M. Address before the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 268.
Spine. A study of measurements in curvature of the spine, Fitz, G. W., 310.
Spleen. Splenectomy, 293.
Splints. A new modification of the hip-splint, Dane, J., 59.
Standish, M. Contagious conjunctivitis, 129.
Starr, M. A. Address before the American Neurological Association, 319.
Statistics. Boston Board of Municipal Statistics, Hartwell, E. M., 189; the Michigan monthly bulletin of vital statistics, 527; a forty years' summary of the vital statistics of Massachusetts, 606.
Sternum. A case of dislocation of the sternum, reduced, Stone, J. S., 312.
Stevens, C. B. Report of forty cases of intubation, 288.
Stewart, D. D. An autopsy in a case of innominate aneurism cured by the introduction of gold wire and electrolysis, 275.
Stewart, J. Arthritis deformans, 269.
Stomach. Chronic ulcer of the stomach, Cutler, E. G., and Elliot, J. W., 54; the surgery of the stomach, 400.
Stone, A. K. Enteroptosis as a clinical factor in the diseases of women, 322, 348.
Stone, J. S. A case of dislocation of the sternum, reduced, 312.
Subscription. Sold only by subscription, Thayer, A. S., 143.
Suiter, A. W. The barber shop as a menace to the public health, 523.
Summer Residence. The choice of a summer residence in New England, Knight, F. I., 111.
Sun-bonnets for horses, 274.
Surgery. The new surgery, Cheever, D. W., 1; recent progress in surgery, Burrell, H. L., and Cushing, H. W., 154, 178, 312; points in operative technique, Cabot, A. T., 492; intestinal obstruction from band, Porter, C. B., 494; the injuries of modern naval warfare, Suzuki, S., 610; surgery on the battlefield without anesthesia, Ryan, C. S., 610.
Suzuki, S. The injuries of modern naval warfare, 610.
Swan, W. D A gunshot wound of the head, 618.
Symphyseotomy. Remarks on symphyseotomy, Engelmann, G. J., 34, 37; case of symphyseotomy, Pomeroy, E. H., 36, 37.
Syphilis. Entire destruction of the soft palate and velum by syphilis, Blodgett, A. N., 133, 135; cerebral syphilis, with report of a case of chronic meningo-encephalitis secondary to syphilis, Barney, C. N., 671, 677.
Taylor, A. E. Anemia, 42.
Taylor, F. W. A case of intubation at the age of four months and ten days, 239.
Taylor, J. M. The effect of climate upon neurasthenia and melancholia, 90; climate or environment as a factor in the repair of neurasthenia and melancholia, 415.
Taylor, R. W. Priapism, 62.
Thayer, A. S. Sold only by subscription, 143.
Thompson, W. G. The clinical value of the Widal test for typhoid fever, 478.
Thorndike, P. A case of cystin calculus in the male bladder, 40.
Thumb. Plastic operations on the thumb, Nicoladoni, 274.
Tongue. Subglottic tumor removed by tracheotomy and curetting, Farlow, J. W., 213.
Tonsil. Treatment of chronic affections of the tonsils with demonstration of instruments, Gleitsmann, J. W., 185; simulated sarcoma of the tonsil, Delavan, D. B., 212.
Torticollis. Treatment of torticollis, Brackett, E. G., 137; the nature and treatment of spasmodic torticollis, Walton, G. L., 375.
Townsend, C. W. Phthisis and child-bearing, 391, 398; recent progress in obstetrics, 417; three cases of congenital heart disease, 493.
Townsend, W. R. Excision of hip, 161.
Trained attendants for chronic cases, 529.
Trichinosis. The diagnosis of trichinosis, 676, 678.
Tuberculin. The new tuberculin, 115; the tuberculin test in ten cases of acute pleurisy, Sears, G. G., 121; the diagnostic value of tuberculin, White, F. W., 123, 134; Koch's new tuberculin in lupus, 142; Koch's new tuberculin, 142; the new tuberculin, 299.
Tuberculosis. Dolichocephaly and tuberculosis, 20; results after nephrectomy for renal tuberculosis, Bangs, L. B., 39; how to treat tuberculosis, Rochester, D. L., 40; the treatment of tuberculosis by iodoform inunctions, Flick, L. F., 40; curability of pulmonary tuberculosis, Borland, E. B., 40; tubercular necrosis of the prostate, Fuller, E., 63; the dangers of tubercular infection and their partial arrest by climatic influences, Gardiner, C. F., 89; observations upon pulmonary tuberculosis in Colorado, Bonney, S. G., 89, 282; aero-therapeutics and hydro-therapeutics in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, Knopf, S. A., 89; digestion vs. drugs in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, Fisk, S. A., 112; a record of the treatment of four cases of pulmonary tuberculosis with Koch's new tuberculin, Hewes, H. F., 259; acute tuberculosis in puerperal women, Call, E. L., 342, 350; what inferences may be drawn from cases of pulmonary tuberculosis reported to have originated in Colorado, Bonney, S. G., 362; remarks on the treatment of tuberculosis by the anti-tubercle serum, Hinsdale, G., 416; the tuberculous diathesis, Burr, C. R., 542; record of two cases of beginning pulmonary tuberculosis treated with subcutaneous injections of Koch's tuberculin, T. R., 571, 577.
Turbinate bodies. A new method of permanent relief for certain enlargements of the turbinate bodies, Delavan, D. B., 212.
Turpentine. Oil of turpentine as a remedial agent, Walker, J. B., 113.
Tuttle, J. P. Urethro-rectal fistula, 61.
Twombly, E. L. Antitoxin as a prophylactic, 649.
Typhoid Fever. The serum test for the diagnosis of typhoid, Gerhardt, 16; Elsner's method of diagnosis in typhoid fever, Richardson, M. W., 16; observations on two examples of typhoid meningeal infection, Ohlmacher, A. P., 17; relapses in typhoid fever, Osler, W., 17; perichondritis of the larynx in typhoid fever, Fussell, M. H., 17; the rational antiseptic treatment of typhoid fever, West, H. A., 17; the treatment of typhoid fever, Upshur, J. N., 18; the Woodbridge treatment of typhoid fever, Woodbridge, J. E., 94; health boards and the Widal test for typhoid fever, Cabot, R. C., 276; bacterial features of typhoid, with special reference to pathology and diagnosis, Smith, C. D., 295; oysters and typhoid fever, 327; on the bacteriological examination of the stools in typhoid fever and its value in diagnosis, Richardson, M. W., 433; serum diagnosis of typhoid fever, Johnston, W., 455; the clinical value of the Widal test for typhoid fever, Thompson, W. G., 478; Maidstone epidemic of typhoid, 505; the separation for diagnostic purposes, by a new method, of typhoid bacilli from the stools and urine, 505; the Widal test for the diagnosis of typhoid fever, 506; a case of cholecystitis due to the typhoid bacillus, Richardson, M. W., 570.
Tyson, J. On the proper use of terms to denote myocardial changes, 270.
Upshur, J. N. The treatment of typhoid fever, 18.
Urinary System. Cancer of kidney, nephrectomy, Beach, H. H. A., 13; report of post-mortem examinations in some cases of movable kidney, Watson, F. S., 37; clinical observations on loose and displaced kidneys, Bryson, J. P., 38; some observations upon the surgical anatomy of the kidney, Brewer, G. E., 38; results after nephrectomy for renal tuberculosis, Bangs, L. B., 39; detection of stone in the kidney, Martin, E., 39; a case of cystin calculus in the male bladder, Thorndike, P., 40; urethro-rectal fistula, Tuttle, J. P., 61; priapism, Taylor, R. W., 62; chronic contraction of the prostatic fibres encircling the vesical neck, Fuller, E., 62; a new method of removing polypoid growths from the bladder, Chismore, G., 64; recurrent stone in the bladder of a child, Judkins, W., 64; a case of nephrectomy for cystic adenoma in a pregnant woman, Scudder, C. L., 64; a possible aid to the discovery of the tubercle bacillus in the urine, Bryson, J. P., 64; the relation of oxaluria and uric-acid excess to genito-urinary inflammations and disorders, Lewis, B., 65; some cases of cystitis in women, Garceau, E., 97, 109, 120, 437; renal diseases as affected by climate, Danforth, I. N., 114; some cases of urethral polypus, Reynolds, E., 443, 445; a case of septic pyelitis following cystitis, as a complication of the puerperium, Ehrlich, H., 444; a case of nephrectomy for renal abscess, calculous pyelitis and cholecystotomy in the same patient, recovery, Homans, J., 547; a case of chyluria, Vickery, 625.

Vaccination. An incident in the history of vaccination, Everett, S. W., 77.
Van Harlingen, A. Hysterical dermato-neuroses, 423.
Vickery, H. F. A case of atropine poisoning, 59; a report of three cases of cancer of the stomach in which hydrochloric acid was present, 132, 136; two cases of regurgitation and tabes dorsalis, 498; a case of chyluria, 625.
Vietor, A. C. The diagnosis of some common injuries in the shoulder region, 412, 439.
Wadsworth, O. F. Anomalies of muscular balance, 100; hemorrhage attending the operation for cataract, 308.
Walker, J. B. Oil of turpentine as a remedial agent, 113.
Walking. A study in human gait, Bradford, E. H., 162.
Wallace, A. S. Suits for malpractice, 373.
Walton, G. L. Subarachnoid serous exudation productive of pressure symptoms after head injuries, 319; the nature and treatment of spasmodic torticollis, 375.
Ward, R. DeC. A visit to the highest meteorological station in the world, 637.
Warren, J. C. Anatomical specimens, 602; total excision of the scapula for sarcoma, 624.
Washington. Medical laws of the State of Washington, Coe, F. H., 559.
Water. Treatment of gout by natural mineral water, Ransom, C. C., 113; report of the committee on the pollution of water-supplies, Smart, C., 523.
Watson, F. S Report of post-mortem examinations in some cases of movable kidney, 37; some recollections of the Twelfth International Congress at Moscow, 588.
West, H. A. The rational antiseptic treatment of typhoid fever, 17.
White, F. W. The diagnostic value of tuberculin, 123, 134.
White, H. W., and Courtney, J. W. A case of traumatic cerebral edema, operation, death, 11.
White, J. C. Address before the American Dermatological Association, 422; lymphangioma of the labia majora, 447; a new affection, 491; two unusual cases of skin disease, 623.
Whitney, W. F. The prevention of pneumonia following anesthesia, 311, 316; specimens preserved with their natural colors by Kaiserling's method, 316; the preservation of specimens with their natural colors by Kaiserling's method, 621.
Widal. Health boards and the Widal test for typhoid fever, Cabot, R. C., 276.
Wiener, A. Encephalitis with changes in the pia, 374.
Williams, C. H. Convergent strabismus, 151.
Williams, F. H The uses of the x-rays in medicine, 18; report on progress in therapeutics, 85, 626; clinical report of an epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis, 311.
Winfield, J. M. Contributions to the etiology of congenital ichthyosis, 425.
Wingate, U. O. B. A department of public health and the American Medical Association, 582.
Witch Doctors. Attack of witch doctors on medical missionaries in Rhodesia, 582.
Woodbridge, J. E. Woodbridge treatment of typhoid fever, 94.
Woodbridge, S. H. Car sanitation, 522.
Woodman, M. S. Foreign bodies in the alimentary canal in children, 372.
Worcester, A. The superiority of chloroform as an anesthetic in midwifery practice, 196, 205.
Wright, F. W. Diagnosis of small-pox, 523.
Wright, J. Papillary edematous nasal polypi and their relations to adenomata, 213.
Yellow fever and the bacillus icteroides, Sanarelli, G., 93; the bacillus icteroides, 116; sero-immunization and sero-therapy, 474; a study of yellow fever from a medico-geographical point of view, Liceaga, E., 521; President McKinley recommends a commission for the investigation of yellow fever, 609; the proposed yellow fever commission, 633.
Zenner, P. Some interesting cases of brain tumor, 376.